

SeniorMedConsult™ Educational Programs

Tools for promoting better medication use by seniors in assisted living.

SeniorMedConsult™ is a series of educational programs concerning senior care health topics and related medication needs designed to be delivered by healthcare professionals to residents in assisted living and other community settings. Tailored to the special needs of adult learners, these programs address a variety of senior care health topics and related medication needs.

Researched and written by healthcare professionals with expertise and experience in senior care, these programs are designed to guide the presenter step-by-step from preparation through presentation.

Each program includes:

- Getting started module
- Recordkeeping forms/teaching tools
- Course
- Lesson Plan
- Handouts
- CD containing lesson plan in PowerPoint® and forms and handouts

Assisted living professionals are uniquely positioned to help seniors that affect them and how to more effectively and safely use their medications. Seniors in assisted living want information that can improve their quality of life and extend the length of their independent status. SeniorMedConsult™ educational programs provide the user-friendly tools for sharing that vital information.

Use SeniorMedConsult™ at Family Nights to promote your assisted living community's services to seniors, their families and care givers.
